THREAT TO OUR FLEET!

IT'S FOREIGN BUILT - FOREIGN REGISTERED - FOREIGN CREWED - AND FOREIGN MANAGED

BRITAIN'S MERCHANT Fleet of the 1990's will consist largely of ships built abroad, registered abroad, crewed by foreign crews and managed by foreign managers.

That's the warning given by Mr. Kerry St Johnstone, vice chairman of the General Council of British Shipping as he announced that for the first time in the history of Britain's Merchant Navy, there were more British-owned merchant ships operating on overseas registers than were operating from the United Kingdom.

The decline of Britain's Merchant Fleet makes grim reading.

- ★ The British fleet has halved in size in the last six years.
- ★ Less than 30% of our trade is carried on our ships.
- ★ In 1974 Britain had 10% of the world's tonnage, now its less than 3%.

Other maritime nations such as America, Germany, Norway and Japan all have government help, but Transport Secretary John Moore has ruled out any financial assistance for Britain's Merchant Fleet.

The National Front believes that the Merchant Fleet is a vital part of our national defence as well as a vehicle for the movement of goods and people at sea.

The Merchant Fleet should consist of British built ships, registered in Britain, crewed by Britons, and managed by Britons, and that fleet should be maintained in standard and size to enable it to cope with all the merchant shipping needs of our country.

RIOTERS - AMNESTY CALL

LABOUR DEMAND "SET THEM FREE"

LABOUR POLITICIANS are leading a campaign to have all those arrested during the riots on the Broadwater Farm Estate, in Tottenham, "let off".

The climax of the campaign will be a march during January organised by the Broadwater Farm Estate Defence Committee.

Labour's Haringey Council leader, Bernie Grant, is demanding that all charges against the six people charged with murdering Pc. Keith Blakelock, be dropped.

He said "Blakelock lost his life because he found himself alone on the estate at a time violence was breaking out"

THE NATIONAL FRONT SAYS: "Pc. Keith Blakelock was hacked to death by a bunch of savages. He was yet another victim of Britain's disastrous multi-racial experiment."

The only way to ensure that such atrocities don't become common place in our country is to stop coloured immigration NOW, and return ALL coloured immigrants back to their countries of ethnic origin.

CONCRETE PROOF THAT IMPORTS COST JOBS

IMPORTED CEMENT from Greece is responsible for the loss of 1,200 jobs in the British Cement Industry.

Britain's biggest cement manufacturer, Blue Circle Industries, are laying off 25% of their workforce over the next 12 months. Chairman, John Milne, said the import of foreign cement was responsible, "We are very vulnerable to cheap foreign imports".

THE NATIONAL FRONT SAYS: "Protect British jobs and the British Cement Industry by banning foreign imported cement."

BRITONS PAY DEAR FOR COMMON MARKET FLOUR!

THE PRICE of bread is set to rise again for the second time in two months in spite of Britain having its second largest harvest ever.

Common Market demands mean that British farmers are forced to produce vast quantities of feed wheat and barley that nobody wants and is stored by the Common Market at great expense to the British taxpayer, while British bakers are forced to buy expensive breadmaking wheat from abroad.

THE NATIONAL FRONT SAYS: "Get Britain out of the Common Market. Give British farmers the incentives to grow the right products for the British people."

At Last a Councillor with the Courage to Speak Out!

■ Councillor Alford and attack victim Jim Hayes.

AT LAST a Labour Councillor with the courage to speak out!

Slough Councillor Declan Alford could keep quiet no longer after his colleague Jim Hayes was mugged by two West Indians. He told local papers in a blistering attack,

"How many more times will we read of muggings where the assailants are described as West Indians?"

Some West Indians have taken the stance where they object to rules and regulations and a lot are involved in drugs.

You never hear of West Indians attacking West Indians. Now if that isn't black racism, what is.

The police are afraid of West Indians, who will physically attack them and are making no effort to solve these street crimes.

I expect a lot of flak for saying these things – but sometimes the truth can be upsetting".

A lot of flak is exactly what the brave councillor got. Not one local political spokesman was prepared to support him. Black councillor Lydia Simmons said white racism was responsible for the behaviour of some West Indians. Tory Councillor Mike Farrell said that more black police would help the problem, while local Labour leader Mike Thorpe said that West Indians make a great contribution to our multi-racial town.

Even the Slough Police didn't back Councillor Alford, their spokesman Superintendent David Lindley said he couldn't agree with the councillor's view of West Indians and Street crime.

THE EXPRESS, a Slough paper carried out a survey of the street crime they reported from November 29th, 1985 to November 14th, 1986.

In 58% of the cases reported the assailant was Black or Asian in 21% of the cases the assailant was White and in 21% of cases there was no description available of the assailant.

COLERAINE STORM UP SALES LEAGUE

by Our Ulster Correspondent
IT HAS BEEN quite some time since we last heard of the Coleraine Branch of the National Front.

From a large and successful branch in the early 1980's it slowly deteriorated until finally last year the committee decided to disband the branch.

Consequently, now second in The FLAG's sales league after being reformed in late September, Coleraine can now say they are definitely back with the best.

Branch Secretary Sammy Grundle, a party member for a number of years told The FLAG,

"At the beginning of last year branch morale hit an all time low with the NF's change of policy urging Ulster to go independent. Local members felt they were being pushed out of a United Kingdom they had always been proud to be part of.

"However the launch of The FLAG and Vanguard in August of last year has worked wonders and the spirit of members in the branch has never been this high in years".

Successful papersales over recent months have helped Coleraine considerably. Roy Warke, Branch Treasurer, takes up the story,

"With the increase in Loyalist activity over the last few months

■ The Anglo-Irish Agreement and Tricolour are burned. Increased Loyalist activity gives more opportunities to get our message over by means of papersales.

and a number of rallies and marches taking place in the Province, it has been made easier for us to get our message over to the public"

"Recently in Coleraine there was an Ulster Resistance Movement parade and within 30 minutes we had completely sold out of The FLAG. Not only were we pleased with the results of the sale, but it was most satisfying when on another sale three weeks later, members of the public were coming up and saying how much they had enjoyed reading the paper".

Gary McClland, the new Branch Organiser and another NF veteran summed up the feeling within the branch.

"In 1983 Coleraine had a very successful NF unit. 1987 will see a return to those good old days".

THE TORY Government's obsession with building the Channel Tunnel is costing the British taxpayer millions upon millions of pounds.

The latest scandalous waste of money surrounding the Tunnel was revealed recently in a confidential Government report. The report showed that a motorway extension planned at the mouth of the Tunnel is totally unnecessary.

The Countryside Commission says that the road, which would run through a statutory Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, would do more damage to the landscape than all the Channel Tunnel work put together.

What is more, the Government wants to extend the road at a later stage all the way to Dover, through country said to be even more precious.

Three years ago Mrs Lynda Chalker, then at the Ministry of

TORY ROAD LOBBY CARVES UP KENT

Transport, said that the road would be expensive and 'difficult to justify for the traffic that would continue travelling between Folkestone and Dover if a Channel fixed link were provided".

Nonetheless, and in the underhand way we have come to expect from Thatcher's Government, the Tories are trying to put this road through by slipping a proposal for it into the Channel Tunnel Bill. By doing this the Government will be able to craftily avoid normal planning procedures.

What is the reason for this mania for building roads which cost millions and destroy beautiful countryside even though Government ministers admit they are not needed? What is the motive for this motorway madness?

Of course it has nothing to do with the powerful road lobby which lines the pockets of many Conservative MPs....

Labour pains over NF birth in Wirral

THE activities of the newly-formed Cheshire and Wirral National Front have been causing panic among local Labour councillors.

'Pledge to curb racists' in the Liverpool Echo and 'Labour alert against race slurs' in the Liverpool Daily Post were just two of the headlines in local papers. However Labour fears about the growth of the NF also made news in the Wirral News and the Wirral Globe.

Councillor Andrew Davies, deputy leader of Wirral's Labour group, summed up his party's fears about the birth of the NF in the area. He told the press that the NF was "attempting to increase their influence in Wirral" and that he'd "received reports that the National Front was selling newspapers in public places".

Local NF Organiser, Mike Harris, was unworried by Labour's threats to "declare war" on the NF in the area. He intends to carry on selling The FLAG in public places and promises that the local council have seen nothing yet.

ONE-IN-THREE SUPPORTS NF VIEWPOINT

CHRISTMAS shoppers in Croydon's Whitgift Centre were interviewed by members of East Croydon National Front as to their political views.

Should homosexuality be outlawed? Should the death penalty be outlawed? Should Britain possess an independent nuclear deterrent? and should coloured immigrants be repatriated? were amongst the ten questions asked.

One in three of those interviewed expressed opinions that were consistent with National Front policy and bought a copy of The Flag when shown the paper.

DONCASTER NF EVERY HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

THE latest computer technology is being used by Doncaster National Front in producing their monthly newsletters.

The professional manner in which these bulletins are produced will no doubt confirm to local members the committees December message.

"We have every confidence that the Front will stride into 1987 stronger than ever".

NF CONFRONT IRA THUGS IN MANCHESTER

NATIONAL FRONT members from Edinburgh, Glasgow and North-West England held a lively demonstration against IRA members and supporters when they marched through Manchester on Sunday 23rd November.

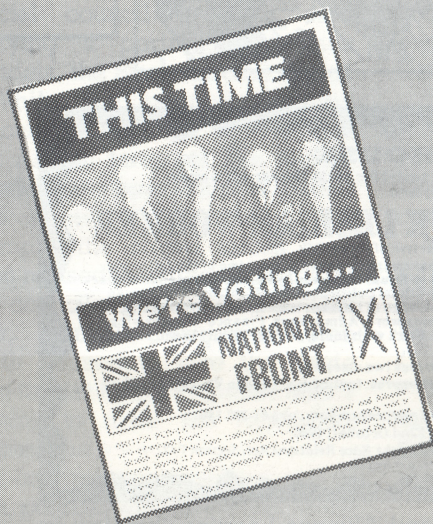

The marchers, who were chanting their approval of IRA atrocities both in Ulster and on the mainland were pelted with eggs and rotten fruit by the Front contingent and a tricolour was burned.

Once again it appears that the National Front is the only organisation prepared to confront the IRA when they swagger through the streets of Britain gloating over their bombing, maiming and murder of British soldiers and civilians.

Once again it appears that only the National Front are prepared to take to the streets to oppose the IRA.

Leaflet Blitz & Papersale

Worthing activists selling in Brighton's Churchill Square Precinct, on the way to beating the branch record.

A DAY of action in Worthing and Brighton by local NF units proved a great success despite the efforts of a group of coloured immigrants. More than £10.00 worth of papers were sold on Saturday 13th December, a Brighton Branch record for a day's paperselling, and over 500 This time we're voting National Front leaflets were given out to Christmas shoppers in the two Sussex coast towns.

Coloured immigrants in Worthing had tried to stop the distribution of the leaflets but their efforts failed miserably much to the amusement of local shoppers.

The very successful day of action was rounded off by the 'best ever' Brighton Branch Christmas Social where over £70.00 was raised for the NF's General Election campaign for the Hove constituency to be fought by local chairman Ted Budden.

GUILTY OF NOT TURNING THE OTHER CHEEK

BIRMINGHAM National Front Organiser John Hill was fined £100 with £16 costs by Sedgemoor Magistrates after admitting using threatening words and behaviour at the "Stand By Ulster" March through Bridgewater at the end of last year.

John had been arrested after scuffles broke out when the marchers had come under attack from Labour Party supporters and students from Bristol University.

A factory worker who is married with two children, John told the Magistrates "There wouldn't have been any trouble if gangs of louts had not started shouting, jeering and spitting at us. I'm sorry but I admit that I'm guilty of not turning the other cheek."

The court was told that the defendant had never been in any trouble whatsoever before.

John Hill is a committed NF activist who not only works tirelessly to build the National Front in Birmingham and the West Midlands but also travels the country supporting other NF units.

Please help him pay his fine by sending a donation. Cheques payable to Birmingham National Front with a note attached 'The John Hill Fund', and sent to The Secretary, P.O.Box 114, Solihull, West Midlands.

FRONT TO FIGHT TWO CROYDON SEATS

EAST Croydon National Front are to fight their local constituency at the General Election.

At a meeting on Wednesday December 10th local organiser Dean Thomas was adopted by the branch to contest the seat.

A comprehensive list of duties and activities was drawn up by the committee ensuring that their candidate gets the best possible campaign.

★With the Croydon branch fighting Croydon North-West constituency, NF activists in Croydon have shown that commitment is the key to promoting the NF. Both Croydon branches are proving themselves a credit to the National Front.

A report by the Socialist Group of MPs in the European Parliament acknowledges the growth of the National Front in Britain, especially the Midlands and North.

The document, 'Against Racism in Europe' says the NF has been successful in recruiting in large industrial areas where young people face a bleak future because of the recession.

BRIEF

Busy Time for Newham NF

DECEMBER has been a busy month for Dave Thomas, the Newham NF Organiser and his committee.

★On December 13th a branch jumble sale raised £70.00 for the General Election Funds for Newham South constituency.

★On December 19th a branch social was attended by more than 60 local members again to raise money for the General Election.

★On December 20th was the regular, and always successful, paper sale at Upton Park the home of West Ham United F.C.

On top of all this activity Dave Thomas and his committee have decided to fight the Council by-election for South Ward, Newham in the new year which comes up because of the resignation of the sitting Labour member.

Video to help Front

NF Prospective Parliamentary Candidate for Vauxhall, Tony Hilton, has made his own promotional video in support of his General Election campaign in the constituency.

During the 30 minute video, Tony is interviewed by Lambeth NF Committee member Barry Murphy on NF policy concerning the political issues of the day.

The video is already proving popular with NF supporters in the Bayliss Road Action Group, a resident's association run by Mr. Hilton.

CRUELTY ON THE RATES!

CRUELTY on the rates is the latest idea of the Labour Loonies on Islington Council. In a dramatic policy u-turn, the council has scrapped its much-vaunted Animal Rights Charter so that it can include Halal Meat in its meals-on-wheels service.

Halal Meat is the meat of animals which have been barbarically slaughtered, without pre-stunning, in accordance with Moslem religious ritual. Animals killed by this method of ritual slaughter die slow, agonising deaths so it is no surprise that animal welfare campaigners in Islington are up in arms at the council's u-turn.

GROVELLING

The council's decision to include Halal Meat in its meals-on-wheels service was taken because of the number of Moslems in the borough. However, the council had previously passed an Animal Rights Charter which demanded that animals should be slaughtered in the "most humane way possible". Nonetheless, and not allowing the welfare of mere animals stand in their way of grovelling to the Asian Community, the council simply added the words "except where religious and cultural traditions demand otherwise".

Understandably, Denise Bennett of Islington Animal Rights has been particularly scathing of the council, accusing it of making a mockery of the charter.

As far as The Flag is concerned, Islington council has not only made a mockery of the charter it has made a complete mockery of itself!

THE SICK STATE OF BRITAIN TODAY!

Joe Pearce investigates

THE ADVERTISEMENT ABOVE for a "Black Lesbian Worker" appeared in The Guardian newspaper. Doesn't it sum up the sick state of Britain today?

Unfortunately, however, such adverts are not isolated examples of multi-racial madness but are becoming increasingly more commonplace. These days, in many Labour-controlled areas, they are not even the exception. They are becoming the rule!

Labour-controlled Ealing Council advertised at the end of last year for eight posts in its new women's unit, offering salaries up to £21,444, and five in its equal opportunities unit, where the top salary, for a race equality co-ordinator, will be £18,654. The advertisement stated the sort of candidates the council were looking for: "We are particularly anxious to attract applicants with a knowledge of Ealing's black and ethnic minority and/or an understanding of the issues around heterosexism and disability".

Labour-controlled Haringey council, under the leadership of 'barmy' Bernie Grant, spends £350,000 a year on race and sex equality. It has 11 departmental race-equality officers and a lesbian and gay unit with a budget of £120,000 and six full-time staff.

The growth of such expensive madness is not merely restricted to London's Labour Loonies. Labour-controlled Manchester City Council has increased spending on its equal opportunities unit from £83,000, when it was set up in 1984, to £345,000 this year.

"All men are equal, but some are more equal than others"

One of the biggest spenders on racial equality is Labour-controlled Bradford City Council, which spends 15% of its total budget, on the needs of ethnic minorities. The council has 15 race equality officers.

ALLIANCE LOONIES

Neither does the madness only effect Labour Loonies. Hampshire County Council, a hung council where the Liberal-SDP Alliance holds the balance of power, has introduced new interviewing practises to favour ethnic minorities and has abandoned word-of-mouth recruitment among manual staff, which it believes had resulted in recruitment being confined to the White working class.

Finally, the Tory Party, not wishing to be outdone by Labour and Alliance Loonies, is doing its utmost to spend even more on the equality industry. Thatcher's government is squandering millions on ethnic minorities and Government ministers are quick to say that they are committed to promoting racial equality. In practical terms, Home Office aid to local authorities to recruit workers to serve the wishes of ethnic minorities has grown from £45 million in 1980 to £73.5 million last year. In addition the Commission for Racial Equality received £9.5 million from the Government last year and the Equal Opportunities Commission received £3.4 million.

FORGOTTEN

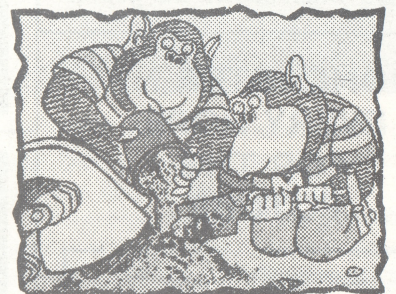

So there we have it, all three major parties clambering to buy the votes and bow to the wishes of Britain's Black and Asian populations. Meanwhile, as they waste millions on the madness of multi-racialism a growing army of White working class Britons are tossed to one side. It is they, not the immigrants, who are forgotten and discriminated against. It is they, not the Blacks, who have to make it on their own without any Government aid or any assistance from their local Labour Looney Council.

Finally, it is they, when no help is forthcoming, who end up in the dole queue. For these forgotten and down-trodden Britons the words of George Orwell may well come to mind; "All men are equal, but some are more equal than others."

BANGERS & MASH GET THE CHOP

■ "Black people are frequently the butts of jokes about monkeys".

HEAD TEACHERS have been advised to withdraw a successful series of children's reading books featuring two chimpanzees called Bangers and Mash because community relations advisers in the Labour-controlled borough of Sandwell, West Midlands, consider them racist.

The two chimpanzees, dressed in jeans and tee-shirts, have been featured in books for about eight years and no education authority has ever complained before.

However, Gurshan Sidhu, Community Relations Officer of Sandwell Council, complained because black people are "frequently the butts of jokes about monkeys".

The Flag is not sure whether to laugh or cry at this latest example of multi-racial madness. Suffice to say that the joke is on Gurshan Sidhu.... or perhaps the biggest joke is on the poor people of Birmingham who put up with this lunacy?

THEY'RE GOING MAD IN MANCHESTER

by Joe Pearce

LABOUR LOONIES are bringing multi-racial madness to Manchester. The left-wing council in the city are causing chaos as their looney policies are put into practice.

For instance, following the recent grant of £118,000 of tax-payers money for a new 'gay' centre, the council has issued a charter threatening their staff with disciplinary action if they discriminate against AIDS sufferers. Graham Stringer, leader of the council, says the aim is to combat the 'prejudice stirred up against lesbians, gays and black people because of the AIDS crisis'. Council employees are now being urged to give AIDS victims "a hug or hold their hand".

DISCRIMINATE

Meanwhile, while council workers are threatened with dismissal from their jobs if they discriminate against Blacks or 'gays', their bosses on the council are free to discriminate against whoever they want. For instance, a recent open weekend for lesbians in the Town Hall offered the chance to nominate members for the Lesbian Sub-Committee of the council. However the so-called 'open' meeting was not open to half the population — all men were barred.

Neither do schoolchildren in Manchester escape the madness. When they returned to school after the half-term break in November they were treated to activities and exhibitions "explaining the current situation in Namibia"

The council doesn't intend to allow Manchester a white Christmas either! Instead a black Christmas is ensured for all with the official council greeting card carrying a portrait of Nelson Mandela, the Black terrorist leader.

While the council honours African dictatorships like Namibia and African terrorists like Nelson Mandela, anything British is treated with hatred and contempt. For example, the armed forces have been refused their traditional role in the council-organised Show. Last year, council Chairperson Ken Strath refused to take the salute from the 1st King's Regiment after a service to mark the regiment's centenary.

In contrast, two members of Sinn Fein, political wing of the IRA, were given a full civic reception at the town hall in October.

Bearing all this in mind, it is no wonder that the few sane Labour councillors left on Manchester council believe that their colleagues have 'gone crackers'. As one sensible Labour councillor, Mr. Ken Collis, put it:

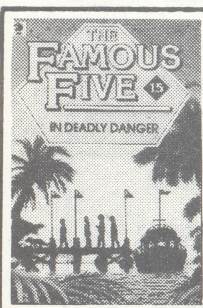

"The ordinary Labour voter here finds the council abhorrent and the policies on gays, lesbians and so go down like a dead duck with the ordinary people."

The truth is that the 'ordinary Labour voter' has nothing whatever in common with the Labour Loonies on Manchester Council.

The only choice for Labour voters is the real party of the British working class. That party is the National Front.

■ A banner hangs across the main road through Manchester, erected at a cost of £3,000 to the taxpayer. Doesn't it just sum up the sick state of Britain today.

DEPUTY EDITOR: Ian Anderson.

EDITORIAL No.5. January 1987.

WHO SAW EASTENDERS on New Year's Day? Such a touching little scene was played out as the two 'resident' homosexuals Colin and Barry, one with arms around the other, shared with eighteen million viewers the more tender moments that occur in a homosexual relationship.

Of course what the viewers never see, or are asked to visualise is the more unpleasant side of such liaisons. What they actually get up to when the lights are out in Albert Square.

You see, if we believe for a moment that EastEnders is the real world, then while Dirty Den, Pete and Lofty are doing what is natural with their respective partners, Colin and Barry are doing what is unnatural with each other. They are doing something very queer.

GRAPHIC DESCRIPTIONS

The British public in 1978 were given an insight into the physical side of homosexual liaisons when those graphic descriptions came out of the Jeremy Thorpe Trial. Who can forget Norman Scott's evidence concerning 'the towels', 'the jar of cream', 'the bleeding bottom', 'the biting of the pillow' and the rest.... much too lurid for these columns.

Despite the general revulsion of the public to the disclosures of the Thorpe trial, homosexuality in the last ten years has become accepted. It has become respectable because the Labour Party, the Alliance and the vociferous 'Gay Lobby' have spent a small fortune in duping adults and children alike into accepting that homosexuality is something quite normal. They have carefully avoided in depth discussion or description of homosexual copulation, preferring just to concentrate on the acceptable side; the friendship aspect we see on television with Colin and Barry.

SOMETHING RATHER NASTY

What they have done is wrapped up something rather nasty in colourful paper so that the public, as long as they don't look too closely, will find nothing offensive.

The FLAG believes that what consenting adults do in the privacy of their own homes must be their own business — unless their actions should affect the lives of others.

RETURN TO THE OLD VALUES

Of course now, through AIDS the antics of homosexuals are effecting the lives of others. Ordinary men and women are suffering because of the abnormal behaviour of homosexuals.

So what is the answer? Possibly a return to the old values. The days when queers were queers and totally unacceptable to the public. The days when if someone walked down a street looking and acting like Quentin Crisp he could be assured of verbal abuse at the best and a whole lot more at worse.

Homosexuality must be swept back under the carpet where it belongs. It is part of life and will always be with us, but it is a very small and unacceptable part of life and as such should be thoroughly discouraged.

ACTION REPLAY

■Are there any left in Pakistan?

SO MANY PAKISTANIS have come to colonise Britain over the last twenty years or so that some of us have got the impression that there aren't any left in Pakistan.

There are a few, however. Well, quite a lot in fact, and they are not at all happy at being provided with more proof, if proof were needed, that the 'multi-racial society' simply doesn't work.

In Britain, even the smallest disturbance involving the native British and Black settlers is inflated by the media to the status of a Race Riot — the British, naturally, being in the wrong. In Karachi, however, they are experiencing what our media coyly calls 'community unrest' between immigrant Pathans and people described as being of Indian ethnic origin. This 'community unrest' involves wholesale throat slitting, hurling babies and children into burning houses and general bloody carnage. It is not, of course, a race riot.

NOT QUITE SO PATHETIC

Meanwhile, up North, there's a bit of a carry on up the Khyber. You'll remember the lashings of sympathy that were bestowed on those pathetic Afghan refugees who fled to Pakistan to escape the Russian terror. Well it seems that they are not so pathetic any more. They have virtually taken over the area around Peshawar and, being whiter and presumably smarter than the indigenous Pakis, are now running most of the businesses, engaging in wholesale gun-running and drug-dealing, and seizing control of the local crime syndicates. All very trying for the local Pakis who, having long denounced 'racism' in Britain, now so resent being dominated by the gun-toting swaggering refugees that they are demanding government action to oust them.

LIKE CONQUERORS

It's all a bit like an action replay of our own refugee invasion around a hundred years ago. Those refugees were pathetic too. They too were anointed with the tears of 'liberal' bleeding hearts. See them now as they strut like conquerors.

Even so, I suppose the Pakis might claim to be still one up on us. At least their refugees are not yet giving orders to the Government!

Healey Granted Immunity!

NOW THAT THE wheels are coming off Neil Kinnock's rickety bandwagon, there is no doubt that beetle browed insect Dennis Healey is beginning to regret having sacrificed his principles, if any, to keep in step with Kinnock's trendy Left.

Strange that Healey, who has shown such promise in his new career as a TV chat show comedian, should still be thirsting for office at such an advanced age. Maybe he has dreams of becoming Britain's oldest Prime Minister — a sort of Winston Churchill with snow on his boots.

CONTORTIONS

For Healey, long a proponent of nuclear deterrence, has engaged in all kinds of mental and linguistic contortions to justify his new-found conversion to the concept of a defenceless, prostrate, neutralist Britain, merely to curry favour with the all-conquering TV personality Kinnock who now, alas, has become just another poison peanut.

All, it seems, in vain.

Anyway, Healey's stumbling dissertations on the horrors of nuclear warfare do not really carry much conviction.

IMMUNE

He, at least, has nothing to fear from such an eventuality.

For scientific research has demonstrated conclusively that, of all God's creatures, cockroaches are virtually immune to radiation.

A Nation Divided

Howard Hawksley

THE ROCKETING HOUSE prices of London and the South-East, contrasted with the virtual stagnation of those parts of Northern Britain serve to exemplify the differing economic fortunes of those regions.

The situation can only get worse as more industries home in on the area of the new M25 London orbital route.

If the industrial starvation and horrendous unemployment of the North aren't bad enough there is the added factor of the effect on the Southern rural environment. As pressure is on to build more and more houses for people who serve the new industries and solve the chronic homes shortage, vast tracts of unique English countryside will disappear under a carpet of concrete.

Norman Tebbit's expressed hope for thousands of Northern cyclists to descend upon the Home Counties and take up the few job vacancies still available is a particularly sick joke with the vast house price deficiency all but the most resourceful find the reality of moving almost impossible. But even if the idea were feasible the Tory philosophy of a mobile workforce must be conceived as undesirable as it inevitably breaks up families and creates a rootless class of people who are treated as little more than economic units.

SHORT TERM

Indeed the whole Conservative ethic of allowing free market forces to dictate the pattern of national development is the cause of many of our problems. The natural inclination of industrialists is to serve their own parochial often short term interests and not the general health of the nation and people as a whole.

Now more than ever is the need for government to take greater control of economic planning so that there is a better distribution of industrial development into areas that need them if we are to prevent the Creation of two Nations. A Government should be elected to protect the interests of all its people and not just to serve the questionable goals of 'free economic forces'.

Scrap Overseas Aid — Help Britain's Poor!

THE British taxpayer is to contribute more during 1987 in overseas aid.

Christopher Patten, Minister for Overseas Development announced that a new aid figure would be £1235 million, a rise of £48 million.

The FLAG believes this money should not be sent overseas but used to look after Britain's poor and needy!*

'WE FEEL AT HOME WITH OUR OWN KIND'

A RECENT edition of the ITV current affairs programme World in Action visited an educational establishment in North London described as "Britain's first all-Black private school".

"I feel at home here," said one of the pupils. "I am with my own kind".

Could such a statement ever be made by a White pupil without immediate accusations of 'racism' and the spectre of the Race Relations industry looming menacingly in the background?

Of course it couldn't. One only has to look at the witch-hunt carried out by Brent council against headteacher Maureen McGoldrick to realise that there is one law for Whites and another for Blacks.

BUGGING BADGER BAITERS

BADGER sets in Gloucestershire are being bugged in the battle against illegal badger diggers.

"Any disturbance of the ground around the sets would then trigger a radio alarm over a distance of up to ten miles", explained Mr John Calway, of the county's badger protection group.

"The device will be a major aid in the fight against cruel people who dig up these delightful animals to sell them for badger baiting", Mr. Calway said.

■ A lorry-load of British meat hijacked in Lyon by French farmers.

When farmer fights farmer because of . . .

E.E.C. LAWS

by Joe Pearce

FRENCH POLICE STOOD by and watched as French sheep farmers hijacked a lorry-load of British lamb in the central square of Lyons recently.

The police still turned a blind eye as the French farmers threw the lamb carcasses from the lorry, rolled them in the gravel and sprayed paint on them.

With the police unwilling to help, the British lorry driver looked on helplessly as the French farmers ruined his load. By the time they had finished, 446 of the 500 carcasses were left in a state which made them unfit for human consumption.

Two days after this attack in Lyons, dockers in Plymouth showed solidarity with British farmers by sending back forty tons of newly-imported French chickens in retaliation for the French attacks on the British lorries.

Mr. Geoff Beresford, Transport and General Workers' Union shop steward at Millbay docks in Plymouth, explained why his members took their retaliatory action.

HIJACKING

"When the Brittany Ferries boat arrived from Roscoff this morning, we decided to leave on board two 20-ton trailer loads of frozen French chickens.

The French farmers seems to be a law unto themselves. They have been hijacking British lorries since 1979 - it's diabolical".

Mr. Beresford informed union members at other ports of the Plymouth action and he hoped they would do likewise.

"These French bully-boys have to learn they can't have everything their own way" he added.

Meanwhile the French 'bully-boys' stepped up their war against British farmers. They held up a lorry from Northern Ireland loaded with £20,000 worth of beef carcasses. They then unloaded them, sprayed them with oil and tried to set them alight. The incident happened at Parthenay, near Poitiers.

In an other incident a lorry carrying 400 live British sheep was held up and sprayed with a chemical called Lindane.

RESPONSIBILITY

The National Front can sympathise with the French farmers who are, after all, only protecting their livelihoods. But our primary concern must be for our, British farmers and that is why the National Front says "GET BRITAIN OUT OF THE COMMON MARKET". The National Front believes that British farmers alone should have the responsibility of producing meat and dairy goods for the British people.

BLACK JOB SCHEME

BIRMINGHAM City Council, government agencies and private companies have provided £100,000 for the first year running costs for a Blacks Only employment scheme.

Launching the Opportunities Industrialisation Centre in Birmingham, the founder, Leon Sullivan said,

"The programme will focus on constituencies where there are large numbers of young blacks unemployed. Our people find jobs because we design the training to fit the jobs".

The FLAG says, can you imagine the outcry if there was a 'Whites Only' job scheme?*

Racist Policy Support in Japan

JAPAN, THE only leading industrialised nation that prohibits all immigration, has discovered 705 aliens working illegally among its 120,866,501 population.

The upset has caused officials to tighten controls on foreigners.

The illegal workers, mostly from the Philippines, entered Japan on tourist visas, but took temporary jobs on building sites, in factories, restaurants and bars.

Unlike Europe and the United States, Japan excludes foreign 'guest workers' as strictly as it does immigrants.

DILUTION

Japan uses its strict immigration laws, which prohibit foreigners from working in Japanese companies, to prevent a dilution of its racially pure society.

This racist policy is openly supported by the Japanese people. A recent survey showed that only 25% of them were willing to associate with foreigners, and 64% wanted nothing whatever to do with them.

■ Prime Minister Nakasone

In fact, the racism of the Japanese people is shared by the Japanese Prime Minister, Mr Nakasone. Japanese society, he told a meeting of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party, is on average far more intelligent than America, "where Blacks, Puerto Ricans and Mexicans lower the intelligence level".

Pays to be a Moslem

THE OWNER of a super-store in Liskhead, Cornwall is converting to the Moslem faith in an attempt to beat the Sunday Trading Laws.

After being prosecuted for trading on Sundays he told local magistrates that he had never heard of a Moslem, Hindu or Buddhist being prosecuted for opening on Sundays.

FLAG SPORT

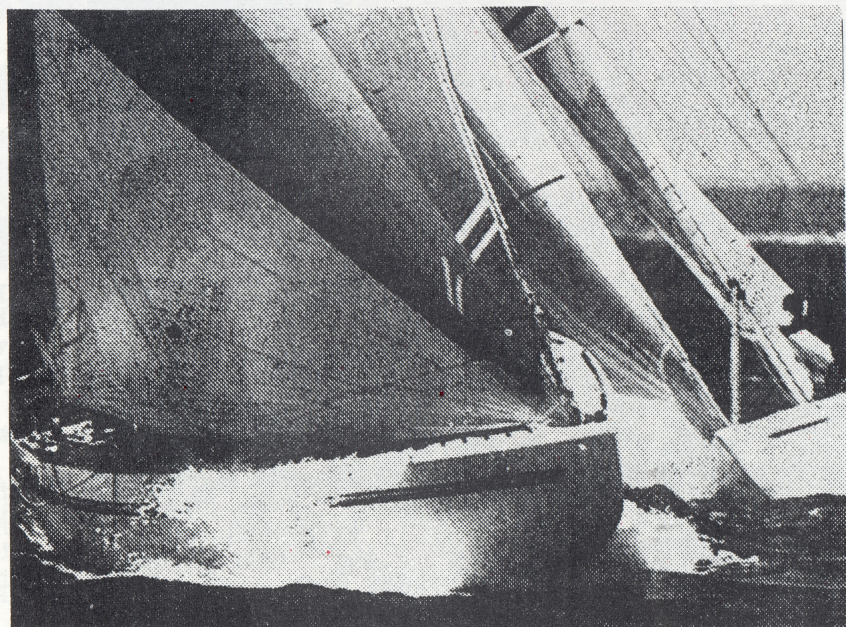

BRAVE IN DEFEAT

WHEN BRITAIN'S challenge for the America's Cup, White Crusader failed in Free-mantle, Australia, there was a big party at the Crusader Yacht Club.

Everyone, quite rightly, felt they had done as much as was humanly possible in coming a very credible sixth of twelve challengers and only narrowly missing qualification into the final stages of the competition.

As is so often the case with British sports the failure to reach the front rank cannot be laid at the feet of the sportmen but of the people who administer the sport. Everyone in Freemantle agreed that Harry Cudmore's White Crusader team was completely professional in its attitude and in its preparation.

However they were beset by with a number of disadvantages from the word go. Firstly the challenge from the Royal Thames Yacht Club was late and was never fully backed up. Instead of being shipped down to Freemantle for the 12 metre championships, White Crusader was put on display at Earls Court. Money was always very tight, far tighter than most of the other challenges, and finally David Hollom's radical second boat was shipped out late.

After a slow and uncertain start caused by these problems, the crew did astonishingly well, pulling up into 6th place before being eliminated. What a shame Britain seems incapable of mounting a completely professional challenge which could put us in first place instead of being brave also-rans.

FIRST SMALL STEP FOR BRITAIN

THE FLAG salutes Eddie Edwards, aged 22, a plasterer from Cheltenham who on December 28th became the first Briton to compete in Ski Jumping's World Cup.

Eddie's jump of 65 metres was the shortest of the 110 competitors but set a British record for a leap on a snow hill beating the previous best of 61 metres set 55 years ago by Guy Nixon.

Whose getting at Gatting?

by Ian Anderson

AFTER THE disastrous captaincy of England's cricket team by David Gower, it comes as a refreshing change to have the gritty leadership of Mike Gatting. Instead of the bored laid-back public school attitude of Gower, we have seen some fire and passion. While this alone cannot cure England's recent cricketing malaise, it is certainly a step in the right direction.

DESERVE

So when Mike Gatting's men ended an appalling run of defeats by beating Australia in Brisbane one would have thought he would at least deserve a share of the praise especially as he did take two wickets for 30 runs as well as scoring 61 runs in the first innings.

When his team went on to draw the next two tests it would appear that things were at long last beginning to look up for England. Yet the newspapers have been lambasting Mike Gatting.

Peter Roebuck, writing in The Times, announced that England have failed "to deliver a knock-out punch to a tottering opponent; instead England have chosen to go for a points victory and now it is they who are on the back foot".

SEIZED

Other newspapers reacted in a similar vein, and like marauding sharks seized on one incident of Mike Gatting over-sleeping one morning (without once criticising the team manager!). Why all this Fleet Street stabbing in the back?

Could it be that unlike certain other England cricketers Mike Gatting doesn't go to wild parties, commit public indiscretions, drop juicy titbits of personal salacious gossip to the drunken sots of Fleet Street who form the 'Touring Press Corps'.

Maybe they're getting at Gatting because he's just a straightforward person who happens to be a good cricketer and a good team captain. For the hacks of the media there's no news in that!

LET'S HAVE SOME WINNERS

Sir,

Cayton, the racing tipster of the communist daily Morning Star, recently broke the record by tipping the greatest number of losing horses in a row. I believe it was 52.

The FLAG appears to be pulling out all the stops to equal that record. Not one of its selections to date have ever won.

The last Saturday before Christmas I was at Lingfield Park where I had the financial misfortune to see Sir's at the Gin your specially recommended selection in December's issue come trailing in sixth, miles behind the winner and so tired the poor thing hardly had the strength to jump the last hurdle. What sort of tipping is that?

I enjoy FLAG's sports page as a bit of light relief from all the politics and it's a good idea covering horse racing, but for heaven's sake lets have some winners.

Ian Vaughan
Aldershot,
Hants.

Our Tipster Replies:

For the record Playschool one of our December selections did actually win just before Christmas albeit at restrictive odds.

Sir's at the Gin ran very disappointingly at Lingfield. The excuse given by the connections was that the young hurdler is still growing and his strength needs building up. We are assured that he is a very good prospect for 1987 and will be winning before too long.

Mr Vaughan is slightly unfair in his criticisms as a number of our selections have run very well at fair odds rewarding each-way support. Playschool again looked a certain winner at Cheltenham early in December before falling at the last.

Confident selections for January are Dangerous Game, Monrita and Socks Downe.

BRITAIN'S BEST

NIGEL MANSELL beat off an Asian and West Indian challenge to become the BBC's Sportsview Personality of 1986.

Despite the media's year of non-stop fawning over Third World athletes and boxers at present residing in Britain, the British Public had no second thoughts when voting Mansell No.1. No doubt regarding the skills of driving a highly-tuned car at break-neck speeds far superior to throwing spears or bashing a fellow sportsman into submission.
